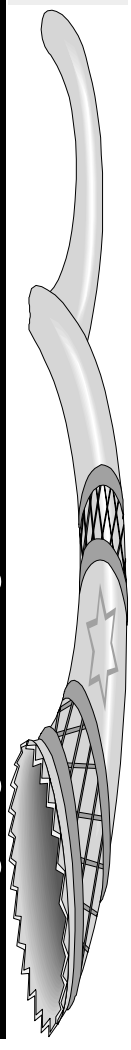
Congregation Agudath Achim



President's Message… Susan Weinstein

As I write this, Passover 5779 has ended, and there has been yet another senseless attack at a Synagogue. Let's attempt to fight this hatred with love, positivity and be among the voices that oppose the rising tide of white nationalism, racism, and anti-Semitism. Jews and all people of faith should be able to enter their houses of worship and live out the lives of their faith without fear, whether in Paris, Oak Creek, Charleston, Pittsburgh, Christchurch, Sri Lanka, Sunnyvale or Poway.

So many positive things are happening at our own synagogue. Our board has voted to follow a transition plan recommended by the United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism (USCJ). We will be having a student rabbi(s) as well as Scholars-in-residence helping us learn more about Conservative Judaism and how to incorporate its practices into our synagogue in a meaningful and gentle manner. This also will allow us to develop a more formal transition plan of changing our services and focus to a Conservative viewpoint, which is the overwhelming desire of our membership.

The Gladstein Fellowship in Entrepreneurial Rabbinic Leadership is available to prepare students to become transformative Jewish communal leaders. Gladstein fellows develop the skills of social entrepreneurs, through intensive mentoring and experience in practical rabbinic's, inspired religious leadership, and community development. Selected in their first year, the fellows spend three years in the program before being placed into a teaching community, where they intern with a gifted congregational rabbi, and in a learning community, which the student serves as rabbi during monthly visits. Gladstein Fellows receive generous financial support through their years at Jewish Theological Seminary and commit to begin their rabbinic careers in an emerging community.

We have applied for this fellowship and a site visit from their team is occurring on May 7. This visit is to see if our congregation is a good fit for their student rabbi and we have been told we have an excellent chance of receiving it. There will be meetings with our leadership, other Jewish entities in the area, and with our board. Importantly, we will have an open meeting at the synagogue the evening of May 7 with Rabbi Stephanie Ruskay, Associate Dean of The Rabbinical School and head of the Fellowship program, Ned Gladstein, donor of the Fellowship plus President of United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism (USCJ), and student Rabbi Ben Freed. If we are selected, we will be paired with Ben Freed for his final two years of rabbinical seminary. He will be our mara d'atra, literally "the master of the locality," or local rabbi in his capacity as the sole halakhic authority of our congregation. He will receive intensive mentoring and experience in practical rabbinic's, inspired religious leadership, and community development. On our side, we will mentor him as to how to be a congregational rabbi and learn from his Conservative Jewish education. He would come monthly eight times as well as the High Holidays each of the two years. All we need to provide is travel, housing and food, as the fellowship pays his fees. We all gain, and when he graduates, we have the possibility of offering him a full-time job. Please plan to attend this open forum and ask questions, raise concerns, but doing so in a positive and constructive manner.

We have a Scholar-in-residence visiting June 21-23 and will extend invitations to the entire Jewish community. Rabbi Schoenberg has been with the USCJ for over 30 years, working with congregations transitioning from Orthodox/ Traditional to Conservative. There will be several opportunities to learn from Rabbi Schoenberg, especially about practices of Conservative Judaism, egalitarianism, and the theology of Conservative Judaism. He will lead a Friday night Shabbat service followed by a Shabbat dinner and talk. On Saturday, we will have our normal Shabbat services with our wonderful lay leaders, a Kiddush luncheon and another talk by Rabbi Schoenberg. We will move our board meeting to Sunday morning and ask probing questions. Lastly there will be a final learning opportunity after the board meeting. Please mark your calendars for this important weekend and bring others in the Jewish community with you. We are looking into other scholars-in-residence to aid us in our transition to Conservative Judaism. Thanks to Lirit Franks and Michael Kuperman, who have been extensively involved in this process.

Lastly, I repeat again that I am available to address concerns openly and frankly with anyone. It pains me to hear of rumors that someone is upset with something, but not know who or the full story. Rather than have gossip and rumors, please voice your questions and concerns opening so that the board or me, as President, can hear them. Let's work together for the sake of our long history as a congregation.

Life is like riding a bicycle: to keep your balance you must keep moving. Albert Einstein

Thank you to all that helped bake, pack and deliver Shalach Manot for Purim this year. Once again, a successful fundraiser and we delivered in record time!
Sisterhood also had a successful presence at the Jewish Food Festival this year and took in funds for both JFAR and Sisterhood in the Gift Shop booth.
Thanks Valerie Steinberg and Sheila Griffin for putting in extra hours for this and all the volunteers that took a 2-3 hour shift during the day.
Moving forward, we are planning a Shavuot brunch for Sunday, June 9, after 9:00am services and we look forward to a nice attendance.

What Is Shavuot?

The Feast of Weeks

Shavuot is a Jewish holiday that celebrates the giving of the Torah to the Jews. The Talmud tells us that God gave the Ten Commandments to the Jews on the sixth night of the Hebrew month of Sivan. Shavuot always falls 50 days after the second night of Passover. The 49 days in between are known as the Omer.

Origins of Shavuot

In biblical times Shavuot also marked the beginning of the new agricultural season and was called Hag HaKatzir, which means "The Harvest Holiday." Other names Shavuot is known by are "The Feast of Weeks" and Hag

HaBikurim, meaning "The Holiday of First Fruits." This last name comes from the practice of bringing fruits to the Temple on Shavuot. After the destruction of the Temple in 70 CE the rabbis connected Shavuot with the Revelation at Mt. Sinai, when God gave the Ten Commandments to the Jewish people. This is why Shavuot celebrates the giving and receiving of the Torah in modern times.

Celebrating Shavuot Today

Many religious Jews commemorate Shavuot by spending the entire night studying Torah at their synagogue or at home. They also study other biblical books and portions of the Talmud. This all-night gathering is known as Tikun Leyl Shavuot and at dawn participants stop studying and recite shacharit, the morning prayer.

Tikun Leyl Shavuot is a kabbalistic (mystical) custom that is relatively new to Jewish tradition. It is increasingly popular among modern Jews and is meant to help us rededicate ourselves to studying Torah. Kabbalists taught that at midnight on Shavuot the skies open for a brief moment and God favorably hears all prayers.

The Foods of Shavuot

Jewish holidays often have some food-related component and Shavuot is no different. According to tradition we should eat dairy foods such as cheese, cheesecake and milk on Shavuot. No one knows where this custom comes from but some think it is related to Shir HaShirim (The Song of Songs). One line of this poem reads "Honey and milk are under your tongue." Many believe that this line is comparing the Torah to the sweetness of milk and honey. In some European cities children are introduced to Torah study on Shavuot and are given honey cakes with passages from the Torah written on them.
